

RISK DISCLOSURE

Last Updated: April 2026

1 INTRODUCTION

- This Risk Disclosure outlines the key risks associated with using the EdgeMarket platform.
- By accessing or using the platform, you acknowledge and accept the risks described below.

2 NO FINANCIAL ADVICE

- EdgeMarket is a technology platform and does not provide financial, investment, or legal advice.
- All decisions made on the platform are the sole responsibility of the user.

3 DIGITAL ASSET RISK

Participation on EdgeMarket involves the use of digital assets, which carry significant risks, including:

- High volatility in value
- Loss of private keys or wallet access
- Irreversible transactions
- Network congestion or delays

Users may lose some or all of their digital assets.

4 MARKET RISK

- Prediction markets are inherently uncertain.
- Outcomes depend on real-world events that may be unpredictable or influenced by external factors.
- There is no guarantee of accuracy or profitability.

5 TECHNOLOGY RISK

- The platform relies on software systems, blockchain infrastructure, and smart contracts.

Risks include:

- Bugs or vulnerabilities
- Smart contract failures
- Downtime or service interruptions

EdgeMarket does not guarantee uninterrupted or error-free operation.

6 NON-CUSTODIAL / STRUCTURED CONTROL

- EdgeMarket does not process fiat funds and does not operate as a traditional custodian.
- However, certain platform functions may involve smart contract or system-level controls over digital assets.
- Users acknowledge these operational mechanisms and associated risks.

7 REGULATORY RISK

- The regulatory treatment of digital assets and prediction markets varies by jurisdiction and may change over time.
- Users are responsible for ensuring that their use of the platform complies with local laws.
- EdgeMarket may restrict access in certain jurisdictions.

8 LIQUIDITY RISK

- Markets may have limited liquidity.
- Users may not be able to enter or exit positions at desired levels or times.

9 USER RESPONSIBILITY

- EdgeMarket may update this Risk Disclosure at any time.
- Continued use of the platform constitutes acceptance of any updates.
